The present firm of the Oppermann Fur Company was then organized with stores at 202-4 North Franklin Street; and Carl F. Oppermann, another son of its founder, joined the firm and continued with it until 1906, when he engaged in business for himself. To the management of the new firm which enjoyed a large and successful trade, Gustav F. Oppermann brought a wide and mature experience, and its continued growth was due very largely to his judgment in the selection of furs of quality, and to his absolute honesty in the making and selling of stylish and becoming garments. In 1906 the firm moved its stores to the Dunk Block, at the corner of Genesee and Warren Avenues, and in this central location the business continued to prosper. In the spring of 1914 it became...
